

A METASTUDY OF JESSIE'S GREATNESS

By Daniel Olivieri and Reginald the Cat

Abstract

In this study we investigated to extent to which Jessie Griffith is an incredible scientist, friend, and human. By using several metrics including funniness, kindness, scientific acumen, and baking ability, we have been able to determine that the answer is that Jessie is incredible to a very great extent. Our results are based on anecdotal evidence which Jessie would not accept as valid.

DAN & REGGIE

1) Jessie is incredibly kind.

2) Jessie is phenomenally
studious

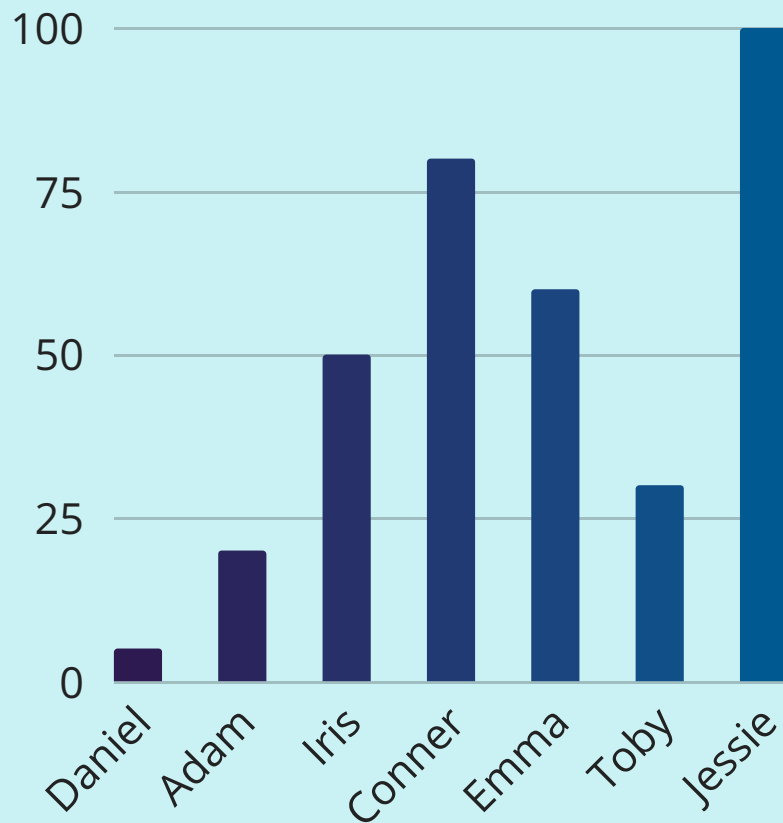

3) Jessie is the best
improviser the Ballpit
Whalers ever had

4) Jessie is the only
member of Spaceteam
I would trust to be my doctor

HUMOR

- The graph to the left shows the amount of humor provided by different members of the Ballpit Whalers.
- As you can see, Jessie was funniest
- And you know it's true because it's a graph

Hard Working

87%

Using incredibly inaccurate and entirely non-rigorous analysis methods, we determined that 87% of all work at Kenyon is done by Jessie.

13%

This is the amount of work done by everyone else. This includes faculty.

Jessie is a fantastic person.
Who inspires people with her care, hard work, and kindness.

A HUMAN

The Quick Numbers

7,891

Number of acts of kindness done by Jessie

1,260

Number of people who wish they were Jessie

WORKS CITED

---

Johnson, Musgrave. A Review of Jessie's Humor. Dank Memes Review, Vol. 37, 2017.

Gillen, Chris. A Qualitative Examination of Jessie's Work Ethic. Completely Legitimate Press, Vol 18, 2016.

Kushner, Jesse. A Thorough Study of Jessie's Kind Nature. Vanderbilt University press, Vol 12, 2017.